

The greater part of the [currently usable] radio spectrum may have been divied-up and sold to the highest bidder, but the People (supposedly) still retain the right to monitor the airwaves unhindered and unharrassed, and this right is implicit in the Constitution. Ask yourselves: is the Broadcast Flag Proposal in line with this? I didn't think so.